Mahone's Candidate-Again. How would the people of Virginia like to see Boxp administering in this State a national election law? What do the people of Boxo's circuit, which comprises the States of Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, and South Carolina, think of John Sherman's proposition that Congress shall put all the congressional elections in those States under the control of Boxo? Well, this is just what WILLIAM MA-HONE'S candidate for President is in faver of, and we suppose there can be no reasonable ground for doubt that Ma-HONE himself is in favor of putting all the congressional elections in all the States under the control of national election officers to be appointed, of and supervisors are now appointed, by How bitterly denounced the school bill which would have made all the school officials in all the State. the States mere tools of the Federal authorities, and would naturally have resultf-d in destroying all the school systems. Destroyed, how? We answer by opening the white schools to negro children, as was done by the Legislature of Ohio last fall, with the approval of John Sherman. That is the school bill to which Mr. Ruppus-BELOEB Says Mahone was friendly; and it fellows that he would naturally favor a national election law redueing the States to a hopeless be employed in striving to capture it. condition of absolute dependence upon | The Virginia Democrats would do

Even white Democrats cease to take any interest in the contest, and do not vote because they know the returns will be all right for them at any rate. And now the present Democratic majority of the House of Representatives, which Mr. Carlisle expects to cleet him as Speaker, and which passes upon questions vitally affecting your industries, is made up of men who have no more right to seats in the House of Representatives than the men certified to by John Tosney and Dan. Dalton had to seats in the House of Representatives in Chio."

FARGPORT, N. Y., October 18.—One of Hen. J. H. H. Figgat, was to-day married at the residence of her mother to Dr. W. F. Henderson, of Blacksburg. They left on the morning train for Richmond and other points East, wirer they will remain for two weeks. Dr. W. A. Wilson left to-day to attend the Medical Convention which meets in your city.

Rev. A. E. Dickinson, D. D., of Richmond, the father of the groom, was the officiating clergyman. The bride was given away by her brother the House of Representatives in the House of Representatives.

That is the language of the man whom Manons invited to Virginia a The reception at the elegant resi-few years ago to instruct our people in dence of the bride's mother was one of of the corps—one hundred and thirty their duties. We quote Sheaman the most notable events in social life

"Now, fellow-citizens, the time has come when the people of the country. North and South, have got to submit to the continuance of these crimes and the consequent inequality of repre-sentation between the North and the South, with the inevitable peril of resistance by organization and blood-shed, or we have to resort to the constitutional methods pointed out for the correction of this evil. I do not hesiate to avow, after the most serious re flection, that this is a duty which should promptly be assumed and performed by the Republican party. It is pledged to it by every consideration of honor and duty. To shrink from it would be the first great set of cowardice displayed in its history." These be bitter words. But there can be no mistaking their meaning. SHERMAN wants an election law which shall insure the return of a majority of state revenue officers act. If such at last the whistle was heard around a shall insure the return of a majority of Republicans to the national House of Representatives. SHERMAN once more: form the greater duty of guarding the national ballot-box from all frauds or corruption or wrong by peaceful means specially provided for by the Constitu-tion of the United States. We only wait until the 4th of March, 1889, for the assent of the people to resume this line of public policy."

That is but a short time. After that expires Manone will, if Sherman's wish be carried out, have a chance to reward a number of his followers in Virginia by electing them to Congress.

Will the people of Virginia assist MAHONE and Sherman and Bono in getting control of this State? We think not. But the way to prevent such a calamity is to elect a Democratic Legislature three weeks hence

A Would-Be Boom-

Some of the Republican papers at the North seem to feel in duty bound to try to been Manone, but their efforts in that direction generally border on the amusing. If we may use the expression it is evident that the work sticks in their craws. Even so violent a South-hating paper as the Philadelphia Evening Buttetin makes a dismal failure in attempting to get enthusiastic over the little General. The Bulletin says:

"The election which takes place in Virginia next month concerns entirely the choice of members of the Legislature. The Republicans, under the lead of ex-Senator Mahone, are naking desperate efforts to obtain a majority in that body. If they succeed in doing so they will return Mahone to his old seat in the Senate."

position is that Manone is tolerated by the Republicans because they hope to use him against the South. That is not very complimentary to the little Gene ral, to say the least. However, there is a lesion for the Democrats in both the endorsement of and the fling at Ma-HONE contained in the Bulletin's artiele. They show that the Republicans consider Virginia the key to the solid South, and are not at all particular as regards means, methods, and men to the Federal Government. How long well to ponder the grave responsibility would there continue to be any States the enemy thus puts upon them.
